Explanation of TV Guide controls from picture above:

- 1.) Display of the service and area code for the current listings showing
- 2.) You can click on this to change your provider (such as Sparklight or Satellite) as well as your zip code
- 3.) You can type a search for a show or movie you are interested in to see if there are any upcoming episodes or showings
- 4.) This button allows you to create an account with this TV listing program as well as login/logout of your TV listing account. Note – this is different from your dcourier.com subscription account. By creating an account with the TV listing program, you can save shows as your favorites which will allow you to view the My Shows tab. Here you will find upcoming episodes of your favorite shows
- 5.) The TV Listings tab is the main view for the TV listings guide. It displays listings for upcoming shows and movies
- 6.) The My Shows tab only works if you have an account for the TV listings. See number 4 above for more info
- 7.) The question mark icon will link you to a F.A.Q. for this TV guide program
- 8.) The print button will print out all the channel listings for the current time block shown at the top of the listings grid
- 9.) These buttons allow you to search for a specific channel, change the default view from all channels to things like just movies, and let you view listings for specific dates and times.
